

BISSELL IS RUSHING WORK ON NEW STORE

Future Home of Bazaar to Be Ready Soon—Advertising Results.

Work is now being pushed on the new home of Bissell's Bazaar, which, after the first of the year, is to be located at 1207 G street. The new establishment will be but a few doors from the present location of the firm, Twelfth and G streets, where the concern has been in business since 1906. This building, it is now said, has grown too small for the future uses of the concern.

In a letter from the proprietor of Bissell's Bazaar, A. L. Bissell, reproduced in today's issue of The Times, it is explained that much of this steady growth in business has been due to judicious advertising. Mr. Bissell said today that a recent advertisement in the Sunday evening edition of The Times brought the biggest day's business his place has known since last Christmas.

After explaining that the question of a daily medium for advertising did not trouble him, as the daily Times had always brought satisfactory returns, Mr. Bissell continues:

"The question of Sunday advertising was one that puzzled me considerably, and after talking over the situation and weighing it seriously I decided to print the opening announcement of our Great Removal Sale in the Sunday Evening Edition of The Washington Times. The only advertisement used was in your paper, and our business on Monday, November 1, was the best we have had since our holiday business last Christmas. You can rest assured that the Sunday Evening Times has proven that it is all and more than you claim for it."

Mr. Bissell owned a jewelry division in one of the department stores from 1903 to 1906. In the latter year he moved to Twelfth and G, and now, following the increase of trade demands, he goes to still larger quarters.

CHARLES KING BUYS IN COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

A $30,000 realty deal has been announced through Bell, O'Brien & Co., who have sold for the Columbia Heights Realty Company the entire frontage on the east and west sides of Twelfth street northwest, between Clifton and Euclid streets, Columbia Heights. The purchaser is Charles King.

Plans are being made by Mr. King to begin at once the erection of a number of moderate-priced houses on the property. He expects to have them completed and on the market by spring. Architect Haller is preparing the designs.

For a consideration said to have been $20,000, H. D. Gordon has transferred to Mrs. Addie Thompson the brick residence at 407 Fourteenth street northwest. The house contains eight rooms, a bath and a store room. Mr. Gordon is intending erecting several houses this winter on property he owns in Mr. Pleasant Heights.

Zepp Brothers have sold, through William Gibbs & Daniel, the red pressed brick house at 619 Rock Creek Church road in Petworth. The purchaser is Rutherford J. Crump, who, it is understood, will occupy it. The price was $4,250. Containing six rooms and a bath, the house occupies a 20x55-foot lot. It is situated diagonally opposite the Soldiers' Home grounds.

Shannon & Lech have sold to Aaron Skinner the new two-story, six-room, brick residence, 132 Bryant street northwest, for $4,500. The house is one of a row of three recently built. Mr. Skinner intends holding the property as an investment.

George P. Newton, a local builder, has just completed a row of colonial-designed houses on the northeast corner of Irving and Warder streets.

FUND FOR AVIATION MEETING IN SIGHT

With three subscriptions amounting to $300, received this morning, the amount pledged toward the aviation meeting guarantee fund was raised to $40,286.

The finance committee now has to raise but $3,714, when the required fund of $50,000 will have been obtained.

Today's subscribers were George E. Hamilton, $200; Gen. George H. Harries, $50, and William J. Flather, $50.

The joint committee of Washington and Baltimore will meet at the residence of President Thomas F. Walsh, of the Washington Aero Club, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, when, in all probability, a committee will be named to go to New York and present the formal bid of the two cities for the meet to the Aero Club of America.

Yesterday afternoon the site committee of the joint committee met in General Allen's office and practically decided upon College Park as the site for the holding of the meet.

College Park, it is the general belief, will be the site chosen.

The second formal appeal since the subscription campaign was inaugurated, was issued today by the finance committee and is as follows:

"Dear Sir—I earnestly desire your immediate subscription to the aero guarantee fund (the same being similar to the inaugural fund), as it is most important the entire amount be secured at the earliest moment. Will you not be one of our public-spirited citizens to aid in bringing the aviation meet of 1910 to Washington? It will mean much to the commercial and financial interests of the city. Small subscriptions are especially desired, so the committee may feel that this movement is a popular one and has received the hearty endorsement of all Washingtonians. Very respectfully,

CLARENCE F. NOY-MENT,
Chairman.

It is believed that additional donations will be announced at the meeting of the joint committee this afternoon.

UNIQUE COSTUMES

FOR STAGE KU KLUX

New costumes, including high, peaked helmets, face masks, and long white robes adorned with St. Andrew's cross, have been made for the stage Ku Klux, who will appear in "The Clansman" at the Academy next week.

For the original real Ku Klux Klan the costumes were made by the wives, daughters, and sweethearts of the members.

To insure secrecy none of the women made the garments for their own klan, but always for other members of the order whom they did not know.

A bundle containing the clothes and directions for fitting and measurement was left at the door of each of these patriotic women, with the request that they sew it together "for the good of the cause."

After the task was completed the bundles were laid outside the door, and the hands of strangers carried it away in the silent watches of the night.

CONVENTION CHEERS SAMUEL GOMPERS

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—"As to when we are going to jail, I can't say. A lot of men have said to us 'You won't go to jail,' just as many said to Justice Wright 'You won't find them guilty.' But the justice did, so I don't know about the question of going to jail."

"I have an abiding faith in the justice of our courts. I hope the courts will yet immortalize themselves by rehabilitating the principles of the Magna Charter. I know of no case as important as this since the civil war. I think I am big enough to disassociate a great principle from my personality."

These were the concluding words of an address by President Gompers today, answering a request by one of the delegates for a statement as to the status of the Buck's stove and range case.

Gompers took occasion to denounce the decision of Justice Wright as "outrageous," and declared he and Secretary Morrison and John Mitchell, the three "victims" of the court's decision, considered themselves still within their rights owing to the dissenting opinion of Justice Shepherd, whom he characterized as of recognized superiority over the majority members of the court.

Gompers spoke with much feeling, and was heartily applauded.
